BILD Announces Associate Award Winner

Bradstone/StoneRox was awarded the Manufacturer/Supplier of the Year respectively at the fourth annual Associates Awards, announced at the December 5, 2007 Annual General Meeting.

In emceeding the awards, BILD Membership Director Helen Batista stated that the Associate Awards program was created to celebrate effective working relationships between land developers, homebuilders and professional renovators and their many suppliers, trades and service or professional firms. Batista added that the winners were determined by a survey of 15 developer, builder or renovator clients per nominee.

Regarding Bradstone/Stonerox, one builder quipped, "The best thing I can say is that when Bradstone is on my job I never hear anything and silence is golden to me." Another builder commented that "Mike Grace is a true asset to our industry – his product is excellent and his professionalism always shines through."
